EXEMPTION BOARD BEGINS ITS SESSIONS.

The Bourbon County Board of Exemptions, composed of Sheriff W. F. Talbot, County Clerk Pearce Paton and Dr. Silas Evans, began its sittings in the Circuit Court room in the court house Wednesday morning at eight o'clock, for the purpose of examining the first ninety-five men who were listed in the first call under the terms of the drafting act.

The first day's work resulted in the examination of seventy-five young men, five of whom were discharged as being physically unfit for service under the requirements of the army rules. Fourteen of the others claimed no exemptions. Most of those who claimed exemption from service did so on the ground of having dependents upon them, in some cases wives, in others mothers and sisters or aged and infirmed parents requiring their care and attention. Others claimed exemption on the ground that they were engaged in agricultural pursuits, necessary to keeping up the food supply of the county. All these cases will be referred to the District Board for Eastern Kentucky, when it meets at Lexington.

Seventy-eight men were examined by the Board yesterday, with the usual large percentage of claims for exemption along the same line. The exemption will be resumed to-day.

WOMAN MEETS DEATH IN FRONT OF MOVING CAR.

Death in a horrible form came swiftly to Mrs. Keene Daniel, aged forty, of this city, yesterday morning at Nineteenth street, when she was caught under the wheels of a rapidly moving interurban car, and crushed to death.

Mrs. Daniel was at her home near Nineteenth street, alone, all the other members of the family being in London, Ky., attending the fair in progress at that place. Some neighbors who had been calling on her had just left, and she called to one of them that she believed she would go across the street and mail a letter to her daughter. The Lexington-Paris interurban car, due here from Lexington, at 9:45, in charge of Motorman Haggard and Conductor Jordan, was coming in just as Mrs. Daniel started across the track immediately in front of, to hail Mr. Earl Swearingen, who was passing at the time in his mail wagon. The motorman sounded his gong and blew his whistle several times, but the unfortunate woman evidently became badly confused, as she started diagonally across the track in front of the car, which was then almost upon her, and ran a few feet in advance of it.

The motorman, Al Haggard, made every effort to stop the car, but too late to avoid the accident. Mrs. Daniel was struck and knocked down, the car passing entirely over her before it could be brought to a standstill. Her body was horribly mangled, the lower limbs being entirely severed from the body and the head crushed, both arms broken, and cuts and bruises extending all over her. Passengers and others who witnessed the accident state that the motorman did all in his power to avoid striking the woman, and that the accident was unavoidable. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of George W. Davis and prepared for burial. The inquest will be held at the court house this morning at ten o'clock by Coroner Rudolph Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel came to Paris from Missouri last March, when they purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. F. Brannon, who had moved to Lexington to reside. Previous to going to Missouri they had lived in Eastern Kentucky at several points. Mrs. Daniel is survived by her husband, Mr. Keene Daniel, one daughter, Miss Mittie Daniel, and two sons, Messrs. George and Daniel Daniel. The funeral arrangements had not been completed last night, but the body will probably be sent to London, Ky., their old home, for interment.

CYNTHIANA PAPER MAKES SPORT OF OUR "SPY."

THE NEWS has had the opinion all along that there was a touch of comic opera about the alleged "German spy." Majors, who has obtained considerable newspaper notoriety lately in connection with his recent arrest in Paris.

Now comes The Cynthiana Democrat and proceeds to launch a heavy brick at Majors, who, it claims, hasn't enough sense to be a "German spy." The Democrat proceeds to shake up Majors' pretensions and exposes him as a charlatan and pretender unworthy of all the hullabaloo he has caused. The Democrat says:

"The man giving the name George Majors, arrested in Paris and taken to Lexington as a suspected German spy, charged with impersonating a United States officer, is believed to be none other than Floyd Irvine, a plasterer and concrete worker who was employed at Berry and other points in that section.

"Parties here the other day said to The Democrat that the description of the man and his actions correspond identically with those of Irvine and they have no doubt he is the man held over to the grand jury by the Fayette courts, and now in jail at Winchester. If their surmises are correct, the authorities have not captured a German spy, but rather a disolute character who drinks a good deal, is not particularly bright when sober, and is certainly not dangerous from a war standpoint. The Berry folks say he hasn't sense enough to be a spy.

"Floyd Irvine was arrested at Berry sometime back on the charge of mistreating a horse, was fined $100, and laid the fine out in the Cynthiana jail. He hired a horse from a liveryman at Berry to drive to Cynthiana, and it was alleged worked the horse so hard that it died. While in jail here he was employed by Jailor Green in helping take care of the court house yard, and did a little concrete and other work.

"He claimed to have been in the navy, but those who knew his irresponsible character doubt the truth of his claim. His mysterious 'Capt. Cutts' is probably a creature of his imagination. He possibly has some letter from girls at Berry, and is said at one time to have been engaged to a young woman down that way, but she broke the engagement when she found out what sort of a fellow he was."

EARLY CLOSING MOVEMENT A SUCCESS.

So far as known no merchant of Paris has had cause to regret the early closing movement which gave his clerks a breathing and recreation-seeking spell at the end of the day's work. They all pronounce it the best thing that ever happened. They have themselves discovered that they had something to live for besides grabbing off the dollars and shortening their lives.

The clerks have utilized the recreation-hour in many ways. One of the most popular has been visits to the bathing beaches up Stoner Creek, where almost every afternoon scores of bathers have enjoyed the cooling and refreshing waters. Driving, visiting, seeing the great outside world at longer range than from behind four walls, have filled in the workers' hours and made them full of enjoyment.

Shoppers have also taken kindly to the movement, and very few have taken it as a matter of personal resentment. Rather to the contrary, they have accepted the clerks' point of view, and by doing their shopping early, have helped themselves and the tired clerks. One woman told one of the clerks at Frank & Co.'s, "I didn't realize before how much shopping I could get done before five o'clock in the afternoon, and what a pleasure it is to know that you get an hour to yourself."

— SPIES IN KENTUCKY.

The presence in the coal region of Kentucky of mysterious strangers who are suspected by the natives of being German spies prompted Representative Langley, of the Tenth Kentucky district, to call on the department of Justice to send secret service operatives into Kentucky to investigate reports emanating from several counties in the district.

Pike county people especially, have had their curiosity aroused by these prying strangers, at least one of whom has appeared in the garb of a preacher.

It is suspected by the natives that they are getting information about the coal resources of Kentucky for some unknown purpose.

— RAILROADS TO HELP FAMILIES OF EMPLOYEES.

Railroads may grant passes to families of employees who have joined the army or navy and are regarded by the railroad as absent on leave. A ruling to this effect has been made by the Interstate Commerce Commission in session at Washington.

SENATE FINALLY DISPOSES OF FOOD BILL.

After many weary weeks of wrangling, sidestepping and filibustering the United States Senate put the Food Bill through the last stages of legislative enactment at four o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, when it was finally adopted by the Senate in the form previously adopted by the House. The vote on the measure was 66 to 7.

Immediately after the final vote on the food control bill the Senate by a viva voce vote also approved the conference report on the first administration bill providing for a food survey and appropriations to stimulate production.

Prompt appointment of Herbert C. Hoover as food administrator and immediate operations under the legislation, is expected to follow, when the measure becomes a law. In addition to its comprehensive provision for control of food, fuel, fertilizer and equipment, the bill carries drastic prohibition features. Thirty days after it is approved it will be unlawful to use food stuffs in the manufacture of distilled beverages or to import distilled spirits for beverage purposes. The President will be empowered to commandeer for military purposes all distilled liquors now held in bond, and to regulate or restrict the use of foods in the manufacture of beer and wine.

The bill will become a law immediately upon being signed by President Wilson, which it is expected will be done to-day. The Senate took a recess to Friday after passing the bill.

— NEW FACES IN THE BIG HOUSE.

A few moments after the doors of the Bourbon County Court house opens on January 1, 1918, several new hands will be at the helm, and several new faces will be seen in familiar places about the big building. The same will also hold true in the city offices.

Mr. George Batterton will occupy the chair now occupied in the County Judge's office by Judge Charles A. McMillan; Mr. William G. McClintock will succeed Mr. W. F. Talbot in the Sheriff's office; Mr. J. B. Caywood will keep the records in the office of the County Superintendent of Schools, the office now held by Miss Mabel Robbins; County Clerk Pearce Paton will, as usual, be in the same position he has held for several years, where he has gained the reputation of being the best County Clerk in the State; Mr. Batterton's chair in the County Attorney's office will be occupied by Mr. David D. Cline; and genial "Billie" Webb will be found in his accustomed place.

Mr. Walter Clark will officiate for the next term in the Assessor's office; Mr. Thomas Taul will hold the keys of the Bourbon county jail after Mr. Jos. Farris turns them over to his care; Chief of Police Fred Link will continue in control of the destinies and workings of the police department; Police Judge E. B. January, who moves up to the dignity of the Mayoralty, will be succeeded in the administration of justice to offenders against the law by Squire Ernest Martin; Hon. Claude M. Thomas will pack his grip and go to Frankfort as the county's Representative in the Legislature; new faces, those of Messrs. John Merringer, Thos. Kiser, John Christman, S. Kenney Nichols, J. J. Veatch, John Arkle and George Doyle, will be seen in the Council Chamber; John Wiggins will blush when his name is called at the first meeting of the Fiscal Court as "Justice John S. Wiggins;" Roxie Rudolph Davis will again be in harness in the Coroner's office, where he fits as if made for the place.

— PARDON AGAIN BEING SOUGHT FOR GEO. ALEXANDER.

Renewed efforts, according to reports coming from Frankfort, are being made to secure a pardon for Geo. Alexander, the Paris banker, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for embezzlement of the funds of the Geo. Alexander & Co. State Bank, some years ago, which caused the bank's suspension.

It is rumored in Frankfort and in Paris that this effort is to be successful, and that Governor Stanley will grant a pardon to the convicted banker.

Early in 1916 Governor Stanley refused to pardon Alexander, and in giving his reasons for his refusal condemned him severely.

The news story is told in a special from Frankfort to the Lexington Leader and the Louisville Post. The Post publishes in full a special from Frankfort to the Louisville Courier-Journal of February 5, 1915, giving Stanley's reason for denying the pardon.

BOURBON ONE OF FOUR HIGHEST ASSESSED COUNTIES.

One of the problems to come before the State Tax Commission for settlement is that of rectifying the inequality in real estate assessments. For the purpose of showing the people of the State how real estate has been assessed, the State Tax Commission has prepared figures on the report of the State Board of Equalization for 1916. During that year Jefferson county paid the highest land assessment, that of $93.89 per acre. Real estate in Fayette county paid the next highest assessment, that of $85.15. The other two counties assessed at more than $50 an acre were Woodford $61.93 and Bourbon $61.01.

Menifee county bears the distinction of paying the lowest land assessment, that of $3.38 per acre.

The counties assessed at over $45 and less than $50 per acre were Jessamine $49.79 and Kenton $45.93.

Three counties assessed at over $50 and less than $45 per acre were Clark, $42.99; Mason, $40.99, and Campbell, $40.78.

The counties assessed at over $35 and less than $45 per acre were Shelby, $38.28; Boyle, $38.25, and Scott, $35.40.

Six counties were assessed at over $20 and less than $35 an acre were Mercer, $34.74; Madison, $33.96; Montgomery, $33.80; Garrard, $33.16; Boone, $30.38.

— AN APPRECIATION.

The Colonial Amusement Co., which operates the Alamo and the Paris Grand in this city, as well as a chain of movie houses in Lexington, and other cities in the Blue Grass, has the good fortune to have at its head a man of discriminating taste and good business judgment, Mr. John B. Elliott. Mr. Elliott has been a generous and consistent user of printer's ink in furthering the interests of the houses he controls, and is not a bit backward in according a just meed of praise to THE NEWS, as evidenced in the following letter:

"Lexington, Ky., Aug. 7, 1917.

"THE NEWS, Paris, Ky.

"I notice a statement in the 'Editorial Musings' department of THE NEWS of August 7 that you could not understand why Paris people would wear out their good shoes borrowing an inferior paper, and then state that 'there was never anything in the old paper, anyhow.' "That's just the trouble with Paris to-day—too many knockers. You have the best paper published in any town near the size of Paris that I know of. Why don't the people boost instead of knock? Paris is the best town in the State considering its size, yet you meet some people from Paris who persist in telling you what a bad town they have. "Let us hope that the Paris people will get together and boost their home town, and buy at home, also. You have the merchandise.

"Very Truly,

JOHN B. ELLIOTT, Manager."

EDITORIAL MUSINGS.

Don't Growl About The Heat.

Parisians, don't grumble about the hot weather. Rather be very thankful for it. That is the advice, and good advice, handed to THE NEWS man the other day by a weather-wise old fellow who had spent many years of his long and useful life on a Bourbon county farm.

The heat is, as a matter of course, disagreeable for city dwellers, but it is busy at the same time working out humanity's salvation. If that is too deep for you put your thankfulness on another ground. The heat is making for lower prices within the next twelve months. Bear with some temporary discomfort which can be mitigated by wise practices, and be thankful for the prospect of cheaper food next winter.

The world needs a bountiful harvest in the United States, and needs it as never a harvest was needed before. Crops were short last year; reserves are very low; a shortage this season would mean widespread suffering in a few months, and would have imperiled the outcome of the war. The soldiers must be fed well, and the first essential toward feeding them is a sufficient supply of food.

The long, wet spring and the early summer had laid a foundation for good harvests, but, if prolonged, would surely have spoiled them, and the turn has come just at the right time. The heat of the last few days made vegetables thrive with life. Corn, almost a hopeless crop in Bourbon county a few weeks ago, has been fairly leaping in growth. Beans and everything on which we depend in this part of the country are feeling new life. A better condition for the hay fields could not have been asked than what we are having. The change in the weather is a change from gloom to joy for the farmer.

We don't have to suffer very acutely from the heat in Paris or in any other city of its size. We can let down a little in our speed, do a little less daily than we have been doing, and do more in the cooler hours. An hour off at the end of the day will help the weary worker, unless he be a slave. Many of us can plan to get away from the heat by taking a trip out in the country, a boat ride on Stoner, or a plunge and frolic in its waters, or by seeking other means of resting the body and the mind. There are numerous methods of reducing the effects of the hot spell, and one of them is by bearing in mind the good it is doing for us to ease up a little in our haste toward the grave.

It's none of our business, of course, but we thought maybe some of the bachelor girls of Paris would be interested in knowing that a troop of Russian women captured 102 men at one time just a few days ago!

On "Bawling Out."

Yesterday at noon we heard a man "bawling out" a waiter. We thought he was a "brave, brave man." "Bawling-out" usually are.

"Bawling out" a waiter is like taking candy from a baby. It is just about as noble. A waiter cannot help a lot of things that go on in the kitchen. He probably has a temperamental "chef" to deal with. He cannot redecorate the hotel or the restaurant. He is not the manager, and the manager is not the corporation that owns the hotel. Maybe the man who owns most of the hotel or the restaurant, and who is the party that ought to be "bawled out" has never been in the working part of the place. Maybe that is what is the matter. Maybe you ought to call a meeting of the directors. But don't jump all over the waiter unless he is a bum waiter, and then—don't. If something happens that you don't like—whistle. "What, whistle in a dining room?" Yes. Other people are listening. They would prefer your whistling to a lot of your disagreeable and asinine talk. The ten-cent tip you are going to give the waiter after dinner does not entitle you to humiliate him publicly.

The "bawler-out" is usually a low, sulking species. He likes to show his courage before an audience by talking noisily and insultingly to somebody whose hands are tied from hitting him back as he deserves. He seldom "bawls out" anyone in private. He always embarrasses everyone within listening distance and perhaps spoils the appetite of a half-dozen persons. He also works well on the telephone. He takes especial delight in "bawling out" the girl at the other end of the wire. Then he turns and says: "I certainly did give that skirt a good bawling out." Oh, yes, he is certainly a very brave, brave man—in his own estimation—but in the estimation of really courageous and sensible people he is a contemptible bag of gas masquerading as a man.

One of life's disappointments came the other day when we dropped in the Grand Opera House to attend a picture show, and saw the heroine alight from a train at a station in Manchester, England, and then happened to notice that the train was drawn by a Big Four engine!

WATCH AMERICA.

In a statement made in Washington the other day, Herbert C. Hoover, whose war specialty is food conservation and control, said:

"The United States has done more in four months than Germany did in a year."

If confusion did not attend America's entrance into the war the world would be the witness of a miracle of transformation. A nation of 100,000,000 devoted to peace cannot get into a war calling for millions of men and billions of dollars with the savoir faire, of a cotillion leader enter a ballroom or with the sang froid of the wearer of the championship belt stepping into the prize ring. But being in, Americans will acquire themselves as Polonius advised Laertes to do, that those who sought the quarrel might rue their folly and respect the foe.

Watch America! This country's preparation and performance in the world war will present to the world a new aspect of the American, already an epic figure in the story of human progress.—Courier-Journal.

Does your back ache, night and day?

What they say you can believe.
Read this Paris woman's account.
See her, ask her, if you doubt.

Mrs. J. C. Feltmann, South Pleasant street, Paris, says: "A few years ago I was suffering with kidney complaint. My back was the worst source of pain and ached dreadfully. I found it difficult to bend or stoop. I had often read about Doan's Kidney Pills and I used a box. They cured me of the attack. Whenever I have had any return symptoms, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Oberdorfer's Drug Store and have received the same good results."

SOLDIERS MAY VOTE EVEN THOUGH OUT OF COUNTRY.

American citizen-soldiers, whether located in cantonments of the national army, mobilization centers of the National Guard, or even in France with the expeditionary forces, may vote at the fall elections if their respective States establish voting machinery at the camps.

Provost Marshal General Crowder said that there was no bar to the voting guardsmen or drafted soldiers, so far as the Federal Government was concerned, and that the only obstacle would be the absence of State legislation on the subject.

Many States have laws, in some cases dating back to the Civil War, permitting citizens under arms to vote when away from the home precinct. Last fall, while the National Guard was mobilized on the Mexican border, other States enacted legislation permitting the troops to cast ballots in national, State and municipal elections. Subsequently the same process will be followed this fall, ballots of soldiers from States making the necessary arrangements being mailed from the camp or cantonment.

Every State is the judge of the voting qualifications of its electors, but in the absence of a presidential or congressional campaign it is doubtful if many States will care to undertake polling any of their men who may be in France this year.

GERMAN SOLDIERS DOPED BEFORE GOING TO BATTLE

"It is impossible for you in America to comprehend the brutality of the German officers," remarked Captain David Sutphen, a British army officer on leave of absence in the United States, at the Willard. "That the German soldiers are literally forced to fight against their will is a fact. When they are ordered to 'go over' machine guns are trained on them at their backs and at the first evidence of weakening these guns are let go. The Germans are between two fires, and they prefer the attack in front rather than the retreat to certain death behind."

"I have heard it said that the French employ the same methods but I can say that this is absolutely untrue. The French do, however, permit the men to have a little courage in the form of rum just before 'going over.' Whenever it happens that rum is passed about the French know that they are about to be ordered to make an attack."

"This, however, is nothing compared with what the Germans do. They haven't rum or whisky to stimulate their men, so they give them ether. The effect of ether, of course, is to stimulate the soldiers immediately; in fact they really have little appreciation of what they are doing once they are doped with ether."

"There is not a shadow of doubt that the Germans in the trenches have been and are being deceived as to their real situation. If they knew the hopelessness of their cause I believe they would rebel, but the German officials see to it not only that the men who are fighting are not given the facts, but that all the people are deceived."—Washington Post.

BLACK AND DEW BERRIES.

Use only the fresh, firm and clean blueberries for canning, says a recent bulletin from the National Emergency Food Garden Commission which is co-operating with this paper in its nation-wide food conservation campaign. Best results are obtained if the fruit is canned the same day that it is picked.

Pick over fruit carefully and wash by placing in a colander and pouring cold water through it. Pack into hot glass jars and fill space with boiling water or hot sirup. (*See below.) Adjust tops and partially seal jars (tin cans should be sealed completely.) Sterilize in boiling water for 16 minutes and then tighten tops of jars immediately after removing from the hot water. Invert in a place free from draughts to cool. Wrap in a dark paper to prevent loss of color in storage. Keep it cool.

*If sirup is desired use a cup of sugar to four cups of water and boil till dissolved. Use sirup boiling hot. Blackberries and Dewberries.—Blackberries and dewberries should be picked in shallow trays or baskets during the cool part of the day and canned as soon as possible after being picked. Greater care is necessary in handling these berries than in the case of blueberries because they are more easily jammed.

The canning process is essentially the same, except that the heavier sirup may be used if desired. An excellent sirup may be made of a cup of sugar dissolved in three cups of juice from very ripe berries. This gives a very fine flavor and adds color to the canned fruit, making a palatable and attractive dessert.

LIFE OF A MICROBE.

The Department of Agriculture has investigated the life history of several varieties of microbes, and finds that these microscopic creatures are more highly organized than we have suspected in the past. They pass through several stages of growth, which have often been mistaken in the past for distinct varieties. They were found to be divided into two sexes, while in the past the microbe has been considered sexless organism.

SUMMER COMPLAINT.

During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., states, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results."

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Fulton, N. Y. — "Why will women pay out their money for treatment and receive no benefit, when so many have proved that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will make them well? For over a year I suffered so from female weakness I could hardly stand and was afraid to go on the street alone. Doctors said medicines were useless and only an operation would help me, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved it otherwise. I am now perfectly well and can do any kind of work."

Mrs. NELLIE PHELPS, care of R. A. Rider, R.F.D. No. 5, Fulton, N. Y.

We wish every woman who suffers from female troubles, nervousness, backache or the blues could see the letters written by women made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have bad symptoms and do not understand the cause, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for helpful advice given free.

PLANS FOR SCHOOLING IN WAR QUESTIONS

The State Board of Education is asking the people of the State to join in the propaganda of better informing the citizenship on four vital questions relating to the war:

First—The cause of the war and the reason for our participation in it.

Second—The military needs of the country.

Third—The economic needs of the country.

Fourth—International arrangements after the war.

That the schools may render their highest and most patriotic service, as well as the greatest educational value, the State Board of Education is urging that all institutions of learning in the State do all in their power to further a better understanding of the four propositions. In order that this may be done systematically and effectively, the State Board of Education, orders that Patriotic Day provided for in the Institute Syllabus be observed and emphasized by all Teacher's Institutes; that all teachers shall on the first day of school, or as soon thereafter as advisable hold patriotic exercises for the benefit of the community, to arouse the people to a realization of their duty to the Government, and to thus prepare for a universal national patriotic day, to be proclaimed by the President and the National Commissioner of Education, some time during the fall term of school.

The Board also emphasizes the fact that it is necessary to keep the boys and girls in school, as this country does not want to fall into the error made by France and England of crippling their educational system.

GUARD AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS.

One can hardly look over a single State paper without seeing one or more accounts of deaths from tuberculosis and to feel that had the proper precautions been taken or proper rules of living observed that these lives might have been saved for usefulness, instead of falling victims of untimely graves. A particularly sad case is noted from Richmond. A well-known young man of that city went to France in the fall of 1915 and enlisted with the Allies. There was probably no attention paid by the examining physicians for tuberculosis tendencies. The young man spent the winter following in the trenches and sometimes was up to his waist in water and ice for two days at a time. Such conditions were sure to develop the latent germs and the next spring found him in an English hospital invalided with tuberculosis. He finally secured a passport back to the United States, but died almost on his arrival home. Had the examination for tuberculosis been rigid the young man would likely not have been accepted for service and being exempt from strain and rigors of trench life might never have developed the disease. To guard against such cases the State Tuberculosis Commission is bending every effort and if the advice of the physicians is followed, there will be very few of them in the United States army. The experience of France and other nations should teach the necessity of keeping our army free of the disease by accepting no man with tendency to it, as he is sure to develop it, which will render him incapable for service, besides infecting many others. Eternal vigilance in the matter may prevent the most serious consequences.

DON'T HAMPER THE FARMER.

Before a year has passed nearly a million men now engaged in productive occupations will be called to the colors in the war for humanity and decency. About a fourth of this number will probably be drawn from agricultural pursuits, cattle raising and the like. This will put a strain on our farmers, who have been urged to do everything in their power to make their lands yield their maximum possible return. Our farmers have responded nobly to the nation's call for all the food they can produce, but of what use is it to produce food supplies if they can not be delivered to market? Corn that stays in the farmers' cribs, as it was held for months during last winter in many parts of the corn belt, does nobody any good. Wheat that stays on the farms of Kansas as it stayed last winter helps only the rats. What is the sense of the railroads cutting ditches with the transportation system of the country, if the feeders of the railroads, our public roads to shipping points, are to be neglected so that the good work of the farmers is rendered of little avail by inability to get the stuff from the land into the cars? There are a few hysterical persons in office who seem to think that good roads are a luxury because their grandfathers did not have them. They forget that their grandfathers did not have to feed 100,000,000 American mouths, not to mention a lot of hungry ones among the 46,000,000 people of Great Britain and Ireland and the 40,000,000 of France. All grandfather had to do was to supply food for 23,000,000 persons. His ways are edifying to read about but worthless to copy now. Why hamper the farmer who is working from dawn to dusk to help win the war by making him try to haul our food supplies over roads that grandfather knew very well were wretched?

Only 20 per cent. of the men drafted for the national army in Kentucky and Indiana will be called for training at Camp Taylor early in September. The same percentage will apply at all the cantonments.

The entire national army of 987,000 men will not be called to the colors before the latter part of October.

Official, though informal, announcement of this fact was made by officers in the Provost Marshal General's office, who explained that insurmountable difficulties make it impossible to get the entire army into training before the close of October.

The men at Camp Taylor will be in training for approximately ten months, and it is not likely that they will be ready to board transports for Europe before September 1, 1918.

The machinery of drafting will be completed by the last of August and the Provost Marshal General will be ready at that time to meet any call by the Secretary of War for the full quota of men sought under the draft. As far as the work of this office is concerned, the men could be moved to the cantonments by September 1, the original date set for the beginning of training.

A CARD FROM MR. TAUL.

To The Democratic Voters of Bourbon County:

Not being able to see each of you personally, I desire, through these columns, to express my heartfelt thanks to all of my many friends who, in any way, contributed to my late victory in the race for the nomination for Jailer, and to assure you that I shall try to so conduct the office that no one will have cause to complain of misplaced confidence.

Respectfully yours,
(1t) THOS. TAUL.

A womanly woman never has occasion to complain of the scarcity of manly men.

PROMPT ACTION SAVES LIVES OF BATHERS.

Three bathers who have gotten beyond their depth in Stoner Creek last Monday afternoon were saved from drowning by the presence of mind and ready assistance of Mr. Elgin West, an employee of the Louisville & Nashville.

Mr. Jesse Hodge had been teaching Mrs. Jack Owsley and Mrs. Rhoda Blount, neighbors, the rudiments of the swimming art. In her zeal Mrs. Blount waded out a little bit too far in the creek, and went into a "step-off," where the creek bank takes a sudden slant into the water. As she went under she grasped Mr. Hodge and Mrs. Owsley, who were by her side and all three went down. Mrs. Owsley and Mr. Hodge tried in vain to break the frenzied woman's hold, and only succeeded in going down with her the second time. As they were going under again Mr. West, who was close by, came to their assistance, and by strategy, succeeded in getting hold of Mrs. Blount, breaking her hold on the others, and unaided, bringing the three exhausted bathers to safety.

West's action and his unassisted rescue of three drowning people places him in line for a Carnegie medal, and surely none was ever more deserved.

"LIFESAVING" BREATHING DEVICE INSTALLED.

Mr. George W. Davis has equipped his Winton-Six automobile with a Lungmotor, a life-saving device used to resuscitate those apparently dead from gas poisoning, electric shock, drowning, asphyxia of the new-born, collapse during anaesthesia, etc. This wonderful device will be a part of the ambulance equipment at all times. By its use four lives were saved during the disastrous fire in the Frankfort penitentiary some weeks ago, and it has been the means of restoring to life many hundreds of people apparently dead from drowning or suffocation by gas.

This wonderful device is at your disposal day or night. Telephone us when an accident occurs. In case of an accident call either phone 137, in the daytime, and at night either 299 or 999. You are invited to call and become familiar with the Lungmotor. It may be the means sometime of saving your life. The Lungmotor is the only resuscitating device used by the United States Government and over 4,000 cities, hospitals, utilities companies, etc. The Good Samaritan and the St. Joseph hospitals, in Lexington, and the city of Lexington each have one. (1t)

PRENTICE SLADE BREAKS INTO NEWSPAPERDOM.

Mr. Prentice Slade, of Lexington, well-known as society leader and dance promoter, and as well-known in Paris as in his home town, has become a full-fledged cartoonist and newspaper man. Mr. Slade is a member of the Naval Reserve Corps, and is stationed at Newport, R. I. He is editor of The Reservist, an illustrated publication devoted to the interests of the men enlisted in the United States Navy.

Mr. Slade's contribution to the paper is a cartoon entitled, "Before and After," and depicts a "jelly-bean," as the new recruit is styled, grinning as an officer passes him. In the second picture he is shown in a uniform when the sophisticated swell is standing at attention and coming to a full salute. The cartoon is accompanied by a first page feature story one and one-half columns in length.

Mr. Slade is a son of Mr. R. L. Slade, of Lexington, and is a graduate of the School of Journalism conducted by Mr. Enoch Grehan, formerly of the Lexington Herald, and now the brilliant paragrapher on that paper. He has had considerable experience as a cartoonist, and was for some time connected with the Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

CARD FROM MR. BATTERTON.

To The Democratic Voters of Bourbon County:

It will be impossible for me to see each voter in person who supported me in my race last Saturday, and I therefore take this method to thank each and every one who voted or worked in my behalf. I appreciate their efforts and their votes, and I will show my appreciation, if elected this autumn, by endeavoring to make them a useful servant and officer.

I have no enemy toward anyone who voted or worked against me and therefore can discharge the duties of the office of County Judge free from prejudice or ill will.

I thank each one who stood by me, and I am grateful to you for the honor bestowed upon me.
(1t) GEORGE BATTERTON.

CARD FROM MR. ERNEST MARTIN

I take this method of extending my thanks to the Democrats of Paris for their votes, bestowing on me the nomination for Police Judge of Paris. In return for this nomination, I promise, if elected, to the office this fall, to exert every effort to fill the office of Police Judge impartially, justly and with the thought uppermost in my mind to dispense justice for the good of all our people.

Respectfully,

MR. WECKESSER ELECTED HEAD OF ASSOCIATION.

At the regular meeting of the Grocers' and Butchers' Association of Bourbon county, held at the court house last Monday night, Mr. Fred Weckesser, of the Busy Bee Cash Store, was elected president, and Mr. William Grannan, secretary-treasurer of the organization. The new officers will serve for a term of one year.

By-laws adopted for the organization provide that meetings shall be held twice a month, and that any member who has a debt which is two months or longer past due, shall report the name of the debtor to the secretary and the reason why the debt has not been paid. The secretary will then take legal steps to collect it. He will also compile a list of bad-paying customers once a month, and furnish a copy to each member of the Association.

Each member is pledged not to open an account with any person whose name is on the "delinquent" list until that person has made satisfactory arrangements with the merchant to whom he is indebted.

It is the plan of the Association to enroll in its membership all merchants and professional men in Paris who are doing a credit business. A committee composed of Messrs. Carlisle Wilmoth, Logan Howard and L. R. Bramlette, was appointed by the president to solicit members. The annual dues for membership have been fixed at $6.00. At the next regular meeting, to be held in the court house Monday night, the Association will decide on a permanent meeting place.

B-4 FIRE Insure with W.O. HINTON & SON, AGTS

$5,000 LIVERY STABLE FIRE IN LEXINGTON.

Damage estimated at $5,000, was caused in Lexington, Monday, by a fire which threatened for a while to destroy the livery and sale stable of L. J. Cassidy. The blaze originated in the rear part of the second floor in a large quantity of hay and straw. Nine horses were burned to death. A great amount of feed, and a large number of buggies, wagons and horses went up in the flames. The loss was partly covered by insurance. In fighting the flames Mr. Cassidy was overcome by smoke and had a narrow escape from suffocation.

Fire, Wind and Lightning Insurance. Thomas, Woodford & Bryan.

TO CAMP AT BOONESBORO.

The following party will leave Paris to-day for Boonesboro, where they will camp in a cottage for ten days: Mrs. Volney Ferguson, chaperone; Misses Carolyn Roseberry, Martha Ferguson, Elizabeth Steele, Rachel Wiggins, Anne Molloy and Mary Downing (Lexington), Charles Clay, Hugh Ferguson, Sam Clay Ward, Jo. Davis, Jr., James Metcalfe, and Gus Gay, (Lexington).

The party will be comfortably established during their stay, and will spend the time in boating, bathing, fishing and having "a good time generally."

A CARD FROM MR. JOHN MERRINGER.

I desire to express my heart-felt appreciation to the Democratic voters of Paris for electing me to the city council from the First Ward, and I assure them that I will keep my pledges made before the election—to strive for the betterment and up-building of Paris.

A native and life-long citizen of Paris, I will do all in my power to see that she takes her rightful place at the head of all other towns her size in Central Kentucky. It will be my earnest endeavor to so conduct myself in office that no one will have cause to be sorry that he voted for me.

Respectfully,
(1t) JOHN MERRINGER.

CARD FROM MR. GEO. HON.

I wish to thank my friends for their hearty support in the primary last Saturday, and to assure one and all that their vote and influence is very much appreciated. When I take my seat in the next General Assembly as your representative, I will do my utmost to carry out every pledge made in my platform, and trust that when my term expires you will have no reason to regret the cordial support given me in my race for the nomination.

Gratefully yours,
GEORGE HON.

CARD FROM MR. LINK.

I desire to express my sincere appreciation of the loyal support accorded me in the primary held last Saturday. To the voters of Paris I am deeply grateful for their support. The faithful and untiring efforts of my intimate friends and workers is a source of gratification to me. I will try and deserve the high compliment paid me Saturday by endeavoring to fill the office of Chief of Police of Paris with credit both to myself and to those who voted for me.

Respectfully,
(1t) W. FRED LINK.

The switching crew sent the car on the track before the driver noticed it. The mules were killed and the wagon demolished.

WOMAN'S HOSPITAL BOARD SEEKS DONATIONS.

There is a large number of empty jars in the pantries at the Massie Memorial Hospital waiting to be filled, and a request has been sent out by the Women's Board of the institution for contributions.
The annual "pantry shower" for the Hospital will be held soon, and in preparation for that event the ladies desire to remind the good people of Paris and Bourbon county that for every jar filled with delicacies for the patients there will be a hearty vote of thanks extended.
The prevailing high cost of food supplies will make these contributions all the more acceptable and welcome. The canning and drying season is now on, which is another reminder to the generous people. Help the Hospital with donations of jellies, preserves, marmalades, or any kind of dainties that are usually found in a hospital larder.

"ALL MEN ARE LIARS."

Some of the unsuccessful candidates in the recent election for city and county offices had their faith in mankind rudely shattered when the result of the contest became known. They were ready to agree with the Psalmist who said, "I have said in my heart all men are liars," and with Bill Nye, who said, "There are liars and liars."

One candidate for a county office was emphatically promised by a Paris citizen that his precinct would go solidly for him. When the returns came in the candidate hadn't a vote in the whole precinct. There was some urgent telephoning to know what had happened, and the explanation hasn't yet been given to the press.

Another candidate was met on the streets Sunday morning and told by about fifteen men that they had not only voted for him, but had worked hard for him. It developed upon investigation that they were railroad men, and that they got in off their runs too late to get to vote.

A candidate for another county office was met on the streets by about fifty people and condoled with over the loss of the nomination. Investigation proved that three of the men had not been near the polls, and that one of them had been confined to his bed on the day of the election.

And we could go on indefinitely telling of these instances that caused the candidates to lose faith in their fellow-beings. But, it's all over now, and we're going back to the good old family feast and be all surrounded with blessings innumerable in a larger and better Paris.

HIGH RECORD FOR MONEY IN CIRCULATION.

Money in circulation in the United States, the Treasury Department's circulation statement shows, reached a new high record August 1. The total on that date was $4,852,084,469, an increase of nearly 23 per cent. within a year. This includes gold, silver and all forms of currency, but does not include money in the Treasury, which would bring the total up to $5,513,292,894.

The per capita circulation August 1 was $46.53. Within a year the per capita circulation has shown the phenomenal increase of $7.53, greater than during any other similar period of time.

The amount of gold in the Treasury and in circulation was $3,086,218,498, an increase of $586,000,000 within the year and of approximately $1,300,000,000 since the European war started.

THE NEW DRAPERIES IN MID-SEASON FROCKS

MOST OF THE SEASON'S FABRICS ADAPTED TO THE DRAPED STYLES.

LONG SLEEVES AND HIGH COLLARS RETURNING

NEW YORK, Aug. 9, 1917.

Draped styles are undoubtedly having their day now. Actually, you come across them here, there and everywhere, and at all times of the day, too, for the reason that there is hardly a fabric which does not lend itself well to this becoming style, whether it is cotton voile or gingham for country wear, the satin or taffeta for afternoon calls, to say nothing of the chiffon andorgette frocks which are, above all, most charming for summer evening parties. Those light-weight wool frocks of serge and wool jersey which should always be on hand for cool days are not too heavy either to be draped; in fact, they are very successful in this style. And so, you can simply suit yourself as to the material you should use for your draped dress, for a draped dress you must have, unless you are willing to admit frankly that you are not in the swim of fashion.

The new draperies take many forms, but the most popular is the kind illustrated here. Sometimes the material is draped about the hips, and at other times the drapery is placed very much lower. In skirts of this kind the width at the hem is narrower than usual so as to obtain the drawn-in appearance at the ankles. The width varies from about one and seven-eighths to two yards, making these skirts narrow enough to be smart, yet not too scant for comfort in walking. There seems to be a tendency in most skirts toward the narrower effect at the hem, especially in the new tailored skirts.

The afternoon dress illustrated above is of black satin, the skirt showing the new side drapery, and the waist, the tie-on style which goes exceptionally well with this type of skirt. Surplice lines always have a certain fascination and the waist in this style is especially modish now. The crossed ends either extend into sashes which are tied at the back, or they are cut off at the back and buttoned in the center.

Dresses That Button At the Back

We have had dresses where buttons, to act as fastening, have been entirely dispensed with. These dresses we have been able to get into by slipping them on over the head, then adjusting the waistline by an elastic. Now, in direct contrast, comes the dress with a row of buttons down the back. One of these very smart frocks is shown in the second sketch. The buttons are covered with the cloth which makes the dress, in this instance, but on many serge and gabardine dresses bone buttons are used. This frock of serge is embellished not only with its self-covered buttons, but with a braided trimming starting from the highest part of the drapery and proceeding downward to the hem, accentuating this new outline. Another important feature of this dress is its high collar. As to the front, the waist is rather plain with a fairly deep yoke. The skirt is draped with just the same effect as is shown in the back, and the narrow sash belt which crosses at the back is brought to the front and tied loosely.

Long Sleeves and High Collars

New notes in sleeves are beginning to appear already, and especially worthy of notice is the new long, close-fitting sleeve which reminds us that the coming autumn season is beginning to cast its shadows before it. Sleeves made of transparent material, which we have had with us so long, are beginning to give way to those made of the dress fabrics. While we still have the transparent sleeves, the dresses made of one material, sleeves and all, are appearing in greater numbers.

And, Now, Some of the New Dresses Button at the Back!

Some of the new sleeves are made with narrow inset sections at the back extending from just below the elbow to the wrist, others have a flaring cuff section slightly above the wrist, and there is still the perfectly plain, close-fitting sleeve decorated only with buttons at the lower part. In the sleeves with inset sections, contrasting material is introduced quite often with pleasing results. The inset section may be of contrasting silk or satin if the dress is of wool fabric. The checked or plaid and plain combination is also very good in either silks or woolsens.

With long sleeves, higher collars are coming in. High collars with jabots of lace or net have been in vogue for some time, but the new high collars on dresses are not detachable as were those with the jabots. They are also of the dress fabric as is the case with the new sleeves. A very novel collar is made in crushed effect with ends crossing in front and buttoned to the dress, somewhat in muffler effect. These collars appear on cloth and silk dresses as well as on the new coats; another warning that we must soon begin to turn our thoughts to autumn styles.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requiring constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts through the blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the system. One hundred dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. ### HOME GUARDS TO WEAR DISTINCTIVE UNIFORM.

The War Department has issued specifications for a uniform for home guard organizations, which would not conflict with statutes prohibiting the wearing of army uniforms or others approximating army equipment by any person not in the military service. It is in the form of an informal suggestion, as the department has no authority to prescribe the uniform to be worn by such organizations.

Forestry green or blue gray is suggested for color and the coat proposed is a single breasted jacket with lapels, bellows pockets and white metal buttons bearing the State coat of arms. Trousers and cap would be of the same material, with the letters, H. G., set in a wreath as an ornament with similar insignia on the coat collar. Officers would be distinguished by shoulder loops with one, two or three circles designating second and first lieutenant and captain, respectively, and a similar series of diamonds for majors, lieutenant colonels and colonels.

GELETT BURGESS A REAL PATRIOT.

There was a time when we thought of Gelett Burgess only as a humorist, as the inventor of the Good and the Purple Cow and the Bromide. But the war, which has shown up a good many people, has shown up Burgess as a first rate patriot. As one of the most active members of the Vigilantes, he has been writing some stirring articles, notably about the Red Cross. His latest contribution, is called "Sentimentality Versus Trained Nursing: Which Do You Prefer For Your Wounded?" This article emphasizes the danger of our wounded soldiers being nursed by incapable and inexperienced women. Mr. Burgess says:

"Partly inside, but mainly outside the Red Cross there has lately developed a strong movement to extend the training of the Nurses' Aids to include a few month's hospital work. 'Now, although at first glance this would seem to be a practical step, behind the project is quite evident an attempt to place, later, these superficially trained students as regular nurses in charge of the wounded. 'There can be no doubt that women after their short hospital training will feel themselves quite competent to care for the sick—else why should they go in for it at all? They will be romantically anxious to enlist.

"Now, do you want your father, your brother or husband in their terrible suffering, on their death beds cared for by amateurs?"

Mr. Burgess recommends that the wounded in our war hospitals shall be attended only by graduated nurses and that patriotic women who wish to give the full measure of devotion to their country should enter some hospital as student nurses and take the regular two years' course.

"For the war," adds Mr. Burgess, "is likely to be long and the wounded many."

A HOUSE BUILT OF STONES FROM EVERYWHERE

The "crazy patch" house of David F. Brown, of Punxsutawney, Pa., is composed of stone from all parts of the world, says the Popular Science Monthly. There are stones from every State in the United States, stones from Italy, Ireland, China, Japan, South America and other places innumerable. Grindstones, millstones, stones from the Mammoth Cave, from Pike's Peak, from the home of Patrick Henry, from the spot on which Gen. Lee surrendered and from every historically famous place in this country, go to make up the "crazy patch" house. Over the fireplace is a piece of gold quartz from South America. It required two years to build the house.

UNCLE SAM HAS AN "ACE IN THE HOLE."

A special to the dailies from Washington under date of Saturday, has the following:

"Reassurances of the most startling character to-day were revealed in confidence to newspaper correspondents by Secretaries Daniels and Baker.

"The men who have been covering these departments have for several days been impressed with an indefinite sort of pessimism. To-day the two secretaries laid the cards on the table, or rather, they permitted the correspondents to look over their shoulders. As a result almost every correspondent came away with this impression:

"The United States has an 'ace in the hole.'

"So striking are the hands which the two Cabinet officers are holding that the correspondents made a strong plea to print some of the details. For the present this has been refused."

SOLDIERS DON BATHING SUITS TO QUENCH THIRST.

Is a soldier in a bathing suit a soldier in uniform in eyes of all Federal law against the sale of intoxicants to soldiers in uniform?

This question has been put up to the Department of Justice agents at Brownsville, Texas.

The question arose out of charges that soldiers have been donning bathing suits, getting them wet and then going to saloons to quench their thirst.

Saloonkeepers claim they were unable to distinguish between soldiers and civilians when they wear bathing suits.

AMERICANS MAY PLAY BALL IN FRANCE.

A wealthy baseball enthusiast of Washington, D. C., has offered to finance the undertaking if Clark Griffith, manager of the Washington Americans, will take two teams of major league baseball players to France for a series of games behind the lines for the entertainment of the American soldiers and their allies.

Mr. Griffith said that he would submit the project to Secretaries Baker and Daniels. If official approval is given, volunteer players will be sought with a view to getting the back-of-the-front series started as soon as possible after the season here closes. A condition of the offer is that Walter Johnson, the Washington pitcher, be one of those selected for the trip.

STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLES.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

An Apology—And An Explanation

We feel that we owe an explanation to the thousands of Paige enthusiasts and prospective Paige owners whose choice is The Most Beautiful Car in America, but who have been unable to secure prompt deliveries.

The Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company has not failed to keep up with its production schedule. As a matter of fact we have already far exceeded the schedule we planned for ourselves last December.

There Must Be Good Reasons For This Overwhelming Popularity

The explanation is plain and unescapable. This unprecedented demand for The Most Beautiful Car in America is inspired by Paige mechanical excellence.

The greatest motoring value is the sum and substance of this explanation. With its mechanical excellence, its beauty, its durability, the Paige is easily sold and—most important of all—it stays sold.

This shortage in Paige cars is not merely a local condition. It is national. If you question this statement go to your nearest Paige dealer and he will confirm it.

But there are other reasons for Paige popularity. They go back of mechanical excellence, beauty and excess values. They are fundamental because they make such things possible. We refer to the sound economic and financial policies that are the foundation of the Paige structure.

In percentage of sales increase, The Most Beautiful Car in America has outstripped all competitors between $1000 and $2000 in price for the last six months.

Since January 1st we have been working our huge manufacturing equipment to full capacity. But in spite of these efforts we have never been for one day caught up with the demand for The Most Beautiful Car in America.

It is a significant fact that in the month of July just closed—a period unsettled by war conditions—the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company was able to fill only 58 per cent of the actual orders placed during that month.

Paige sales in proportion to Paige capitalization are many times greater than those of any car in the same competitive field.

The Paige has built conservatively, soundly. It has no bonded indebtedness. It has been content with a modest profit per car.

The Paige has had the money to create quality in each and every car it has built. The excess value that has been put into The Most Beautiful Car in America has won the confidence and preference of the American public.

This greater value has brought to the Paige a supremacy that has stood unchallenged during the last few months of unsettled economic conditions.

Such overwhelming popularity has made it necessary for us to apologize to you for any delay you may suffer or may have suffered in the delivery of your car.

But is it not worth while waiting for a motor car that is at once the most popular, as well as The Most Beautiful Car in America?

JIMMY VOIX QUITS BASE BALL FOR FARM.

Dissatisfaction over salary, coupled with the recent draft of his brother-in-law, were the reasons Jimmy Voix gave for quitting the Kansas City ball team.

After receiving his pay check Voix told Ganzal he was through. Claude Berry indorsed the $150 check, payment on which was later stopped by Tebue, who also notified Voix of a $150 fine and suspension.

Voix agreed to save Berry from loss and with his wife and baby left at once for their farm near Lexington, Ky.

Voix was formerly a star on the Lexington baseball team during the existence of the Blue Grass League, and played many games on the local grounds. He is well-known in Paris, where he married Miss Nellie Lovely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lovely.

SIX ACRES OF COAL FLOATING ON MISSISSIPPI.

Only in the United States can such a sight be seen as six acres of coal floating down a river as a single unit. This is the area of coal boats which the well-known stern-wheel steamer

Sprague is capable of handling as a single tow. Four across-steam rows of twelve boats each make up the principal part, according to the Popular Science Monthly. Back of the fourth row, however, eight boats find places together with two barges. Hence, there are fifty-six boats and two barges in the big fleet. The Sprague has her nose shoved in at the center of the fifth row. The fifty-nine vessels are lashed securely together by lines which run from boat to boat. Although the Sprague can push the fleet ahead, her chief duty is to hold back the load.

This great amount of coal is handled by a relatively small total of horsepower because the current of the onflowing river supplies a large part of the requisite energy.

GEOLOGISTS MOBILIZE

The United States Geological Survey is preparing to take a census of all the geologists in the nation for war purposes. The geologists will be classified according to their specialties. It is pointed out that geologists can play an important part in war. They can judge more readily than any other engineers of the merits of camp sites, of the suitability of ground for proposed earthworks, of soil conditions in wet or dry weather affecting troop movements, of the choice of lines of defense, and various kindred matters connected with topography and the soil.

Many a man's failure is due to his being afraid to try.

THE BLUE GRASS FAIR.

The opening of the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington brought the usual result, rain, but it also brought a great deal of pleasure to Central Kentucky people, who have been waiting for a real, sure-enough fair for their vacation.

Lovers of horses and live stock have been given a good run for their money. The big event of Tuesday, a $250 stake for suckling mules, foals of 1917, either sex, was won by a mule owned by James T. Jefferson, of Paris. In accordance with the conditions of the event, the winner became the property of the Association, and was auctioned to the exhibitor for $165. McCray Bros., and W. M. Jones & Son, of North Middletown, were among the principal winners in the horse show events, while John Marr and James T. Jefferson divided honors as winners in the mule rings.

In the Floral Hall exhibits Mrs. Cassius M. Clay won first premium on cotton quilt (applique work). Mrs. James W. Grinnan, lately of Paris, won premiums on best loaf of yeast bread and on best one-half dozen yeast rolls.

Many a housewife's idea of a brave woman is one who isn't afraid to talk back to the cook.

Many a woman who thinks herself a beauty never succeeds in convincing her mirror.

MATRIMONIAL.

DEBULER—MORGAN.

—A marriage license was issued yesterday from the office of County Clerk Pearce Paton, to Mrs. Ida Debuler and Mr. Ben Morgan, both of Bourbon county.

SUMMERS—SPEARS.

—“Miss Willie T. Summers and Mr. Edward F. Spears.” So runs the record in the marriage license book in the office of County Clerk Pearce Paton.

Miss Summers, who is one of the most beautiful and most accomplished young women in Paris, and Mr. Spears, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodford Spears, of this city, were actors in the little drama which was preceded by the announcement quoted above. They surprised their many friends by being married at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church, at the corner of Main and Tenth streets, at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, a short time after the issuing of the marriage license.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Summers, of this city, and is as accomplished as she is handsome. She is a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, and has for several years conducted flourishing classes in piano in this city. The bridegroom is engaged in business with his father in the firm of E. F. Spears & Sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Spears will make their home for the present with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodford Spears, on Third street.

Mr. Clark experienced considerable difficulty in finding grazing for his stock, but finally succeeded in placing them for the night on the farm of Mr. Will Wornall. He will dispose of the major portion of the sheep to-day at private sale. Prices rule high this year, the shipment brought in by Mr. Clark bringing $13.50 each. They were in good condition.

HOW THE ETERNAL FEMININE FISHES.

It doesn't serve to mellow a man's disposition to take a woman or two into the boat when he goes bass fishing. For women always want to fish, yet they never could or would they stick those horrid, nasty wriggling angleworms on the hook. So, between bating their hooks and removing the perch and pumpkin seeds and straining your spine to keep the boat from turning turtle and the lines from getting snarled up, you have a most enjoyable day's outing. do you not? Yes, you do not! I'll run the risk of answering that question for you. And then, when you finally hook a five-pound bass weighing at least three pounds and eight ounces by his own standard scales, and play him for twenty minutes against their earnest entreaties not to bring that big, ugly thing into the boat or else they'd jump out!—you calmly ease up on the line and give him slack, also his freedom, do you not? Yes, you do not! And when the day is spent, they tell you what a gorgeous time they have had and make you promise to fetch them again, and you promise, of course, do you not? You do like—Heaven! Zim in Cartoon Magazine.

BISHOP WOODCOCK SAYS WORRY IS CRIMINAL.

“Don't Worry” that is a leading plank in the creed of the Right Rev. Charles E. Woodcock, Episcopal bishop of Kentucky. Even if milk is going up one cent a quart every where next winter's coal is coming from, the Bishop believes worry is an evil. He made this declaration in a sermon at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, in New York last Sunday.

“Worry is an evil,” said the Bishop. “It destroys more than rum or vice. It is as sinful as drinking or gambling. It is a guilty, sinful and cowardly thing. It is always a personal weakness.

“The absolute cure for worry is to be as the bird who flies above the wind-blown dust, and is therefore not sullied. We must fly high above the worries of the earth.”

Bishop Woodcock said it was no more sinful to drink yourself into the gutter than to worry yourself into the grave.

“The people are getting life badly mixed up,” said the Bishop. “They are shortening their lives by ten years through senseless worry. Worry weakens the heart and hardens the arteries. People are carried away by the mistaken idea that one can't live without worry. Men and women doing anything on God's earth should have no time to weaken their soul by senseless worry.”

DEATHS.

GUNSAULUS.

—The body of Mrs. Elizabeth Gunsaulus, aged sixty-three, who died suddenly Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. B. Taylor, near Kiserston, was taken to her old home in Cincinnati yesterday for interment in the Wesleyan Cemetery.

Mrs. Gunsaulus is survived by four daughters, Mrs. L. Britzer, Mrs. Tim Daisey and Mrs. Dorothy Mertz, of Cincinnati, and Mrs. S. B. Taylor, of Kiserston; one son, Mr. James Gunsaulus, of Hamilton, O., and three brothers, Robert Atkins, of Robertson county, and William and Thomas Atkinson, of Louisville.

WOODS.

—The funeral of Mrs. Maggie Cain Woods, aged forty-one, wife of Mr. M. J. Woods, will be held at the Church of the Annunciation, in Paris, at nine o'clock this (Friday) morning, with services conducted by Rev. Father Eugene DeBruyn. The burial will follow in the Paris Catholic Cemetery.

Mrs. Woods had been ill but a few days, and her condition was not such as to cause any serious apprehension among her family and friends. For two days before her death she suffered from heart trouble, which finally caused her death, at the family home, corner of Henderson street and Lillemston avenue.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Misses Nellie and Frances Woods, and four sons, Thomas, Ned, William and Lawrence Woods, and by two brothers, John Cain, Sr., and W. F. Cain.

ASA MARTIN FORECASTS “POOR MAN'S WINTER.”

While suffering humanity is sweltering under a torrid sun, with the mercury sizzling around 90, Colonel Asa K. Martin, widely known local weather prognosticator, comes to the rescue and offers some comfort in his bulletin, just issued, forecasting the weather for the next winter, in which he states there will be fifteen snows in Kentucky, the first falling on November 11, 1917, and the last on May 1, 1918. A May day snow is of course a rarity for this latitude, but Colonel Martin says we will have it—and that should settle it.

There will be no ice-gathering season before Christmas, he says, but we are to have a sharp cold snap about Thanksgiving. Mild weather is predicted during Christmas week—in fact he says that overcoats can be dispensed with on Christmas Day, as it will be warm and pleasant. The coldest weather of the winter will be in January, when, he says there will be two days when the mercury will drop to zero. A big sleet is scheduled for some time in February, exact date not stated. There will also be one ice spell in this month, but he says he will have to wait until Ground Hog day to determine when this will be.

On the whole, Colonel Martin says that the coming winter is to be one of the mildest that has been experienced in Kentucky in the last twenty-five years and adds in his characteristic vein: “It will be a poor man's winter all through—the first winter in years that the coal man will suffer.”

ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVES SHIPPED IN BOXES.

Three large electric locomotives, weighing 120 tons each, were shipped recently from Erie, Pa., to Chile, South America, in knock-down form, being boxed for convenience of shipment, according to the Popular Mechanics Magazine. They are intended for use in transporting iron ore from the mines of an American steel company at Tofo, Chile, 2,200 feet above the sea level, to Cruze Grande, the nearest shipping port. For a while the problem of getting the engines to Chile baffled the traffic men, as they were too big and too heavy to be taken aboard ship intact. The only alternative was to take them apart for shipment. When this was done and the parts were boxed it was found that each of the locomotives occupied eight freight cars and weighed 290,000 pounds. There were sixty-two separate boxes, ranging in size from over fifty feet to only a few inches in length, the largest weighing more than a ton before being packed.

BOY DISAPPEARS.

The police and county authorities have been asked to keep a lookout for a boy named Willie Addams, who has been mysteriously missing from his home near Nicholasville for five weeks. A reward of $10 has been offered for any information that will lead to his recovery.

Young Addams is described as being about fourteen years' old, but small for his age, is rather dark complexioned, and has dark hair. He has been living for the last four years with William Traylor, of Nicholasville, by whom he was adopted from the Feeble-Minded Institute at Frankfort.

No information has been received from him since his disappearance, information of any kind that would give the least hint as to his whereabouts, and his foster-father and relatives have become very anxious about him.

Flattery catches silly people, but disagreeable candor never catches anybody.

W. H. M. S. MEETING.

The W. H. M. S. of the Lexington District Lexington Conference convened at St. Paul's M. E. Church, in this city on Aug. 3. The meeting was well attended and reports of the delegates showed an increase of the work along all lines. The temperance hour led by Mrs. M. E. Randolph, assisted by Rev. J. B. Redmond, of Paris, was especially interesting. A splendid program was rendered during the evening session. Mrs. J. B. Redmond was re-elected president.

It is easy for a man to get rich quick if he meets a lot of others who want to.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN MAKES A FEW CORRECTIONS.

THE NEWS is in receipt of the following letter from Mr. John W. Boulden, of Maysville, formerly of Millersburg, a well-known Confederate veteran, who makes the subjoined additions to an article that appeared in the Kentuckian-Citizen a few weeks ago:

“Maysville, Ky., Aug. 7.
“ED. THE NEWS, Paris, Ky.
“Dear Sir:—

“Several weeks ago I read an article in a Paris paper in regard to the soldiers from Bourbon county in the war of 1861-1865.

“The writer failed to mention a number of prominent Bourbon county soldiers, so I take the liberty of mentioning a number of men, or the ‘boys’ rather from Bourbon. In the Federal service I recall the following: Lieut-Col. Thos. J. Vimont, killed in action at the battle of Sweetwater, Tenn.; Thos. Jeff and Jo. D. Vimont, Augustus Trotter, John Isabell. Thos. Jeff Vimont, an old schoolmate, was wounded at the battle of Cynthia, on July 17, 1862. I was with him all night after the battle, and furnished an affidavit to assist him in securing an increase in pension a few years ago, before he died at Paxton, Ill.

“I recall the names of the following, who were killed in the Confederate service: Julius Purnell, at Ft. Donelson; James Gregory, at Dallas, Ga.; Clifton Mann, in Ohio; Willie Talbott, at Cynthia, the day after he joined, and Will Trotter. Some of the officers in the Confederate service were Capt. Dan Turney, J. Lawrence Jones, Ed. Taylor, Adj. Jos. M. Jones, Lieut. R. L. Bowles, Jos. E. Hedges, George Redmon, John Ashbrook. I have a list of over fifty privates from Millersburg precinct, who were in the Confederate service.

“When the Confederates evacuated Kentucky in the fall of 1862, after capturing a Federal cavalry regiment at Lexington, as Morgan's command left the State, Duke's Regiment crossed Green River at Woodbury, and Breckinridge's battalion at Morgantown. The next morning I was sent with a detail to Woodbury to get a load of flour, and was given an order for Gen. Duke to send a detail to a tan yard to get some leather. We met Duke's command coming toward Morgantown. I gave him the order, and leaving a man named Webster, of Lexington, at a house to save our breakfast, went on to Woodbury. A boy drove in with two oxen in a wagon, and we loaded it with flour and came out of the mill to find the town full of Federal cavalry. They had all of Duke's detail, and out of the fifteen men captured six were from Millersburg, Ben Ashbrook, Henry Doty and Harrison Piper, from Duke's regiment, and Jos. Wallace, James E. Kerns and myself from Breckinridge's battalion. I also recall the names of Will Spencer and George Beatty, of Lexington, in our detail.

“Very truly,
“JOHN W. BOULDEN,

WHAT TO DO WITH GERMANY'S “CRAZY WAR LORD.”

We have just heard of an ideal place to intern the Kaiser when the war is over. It is the Queenstown cemetery, where more than 1,000 bodies of Lusitania victims lie buried. The Town Hall, which was used as a morgue, has been practically deserted ever since. It could be moved to the cemetery and used as a permanent home for the Kaiser. There, among the sepulchral shades of a thousand of his innocent victims, William the Last should be made to spend his remaining years of life. There is just one flaw in such a punishment. His presence among the graves of men, women and children who were sacrificed to his cruel ambition might seem a desecration of the dead.

After a girl has broken a man's heart some other girl comes along and mends it.
